

Millstein Center at Columbia Law School Appoints Lori M. Heinel, Executive Vice President and Global Chief Investment Officer at State Street Global Advisors, as Advisory Board Member

New York, May 2, 2022 The Ira M. Millstein Center for Global Markets and Corporate Ownership at Columbia Law School announced the appointment of Lori Heinel to its advisory board.

Ms. Heinel joins a group of distinguished board members with leading experience in global financial markets and corporate governance.

Lori Heinel

Lori Heinel is executive vice president and global chief investment officer at State Street Global Advisors, where she oversees industry-leading investment capabilities from index funds and exchange traded funds to active, multi-asset class solutions and alternative investments. Ms. Heinel leads an investment team of more than 600 professionals globally. She is also a member of State Street's Executive Management Group, Investment Committee, and Global Product Committee.

Prior to joining State Street, Ms. Heinel was the chief investment strategist and head of Investment Products for OppenheimerFunds, Inc. Before that, she was a managing director and head of investments for Citi Private Bank. Prior to joining Citi, Ms. Heinel ran the Global Investment Products Group for SEI Investments. Earlier in her career, she managed the new business development effort for Mellon Financial's eastern region and was a senior vice president at Parker/Hunter Incorporated running the equity and fixed income sales and trading departments. Ms. Heinel began her career at Credit Suisse First Boston, where she analyzed investment and financing alternatives for institutional clients.

Ira M. Millstein, founding chair of the Millstein Center and senior partner at Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP, said, "Lori brings to the center invaluable experience and knowledge of many of our core areas of interest, including investment stewardship and various ESG considerations in the investment process."

Ms. Heinel received her Master of Business Administration degree from Carnegie Mellon University and her bachelor's degree in religion from Princeton University. She earned the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) designation and is a member of the CFA Institute and the Boston Security Analysts Society.

"We are delighted to welcome Lori to our advisory board," said Erica Mitnick Klein, the center's executive director. "As a senior leader of State Street, Lori brings perspective that will help us to continue to undertake cutting-edge research and engagement activities to strengthen corporate governance, sustainability, and performance.”

###

About the Millstein Center

Building on Columbia Law School’s longstanding strength in corporate and securities law, the Millstein Center operates at the forefront of new thinking about how corporations are governed. The center engages with business leaders and board directors to create meaningful dialogue about the challenges companies face, and serves as a focal point for the most innovative research into the policy solutions required to tackle those challenges.